

A hand-drawn diagram on a white background. The diagram consists of two main regions. The upper region is a large, roughly triangular shape with a rounded top and a curved bottom edge. The word "HEAD" is written in capital letters inside this region. The lower region is a shape that is wider than it is tall, with a curved top edge that connects to the bottom edge of the "HEAD" region. The word "TAIL" is written in capital letters inside this region. The lines are simple and hand-drawn.
